About This Game

Serment - Contract with a Devil (or Serment, for short) is a visual novel - dungeon crawler hybrid where you play as a girl who was revived by a beautiful devil.

Though, instead of claiming our heroine's ever so cliche human soul, the devil demands a huge sum of money for payment. If the payment comes even one day late, the heroine's soul will return to the afterlife.

And so, her light-hearted, comedic adventure to save up enough money before the deadline begins.

Despite the dark sounding premise, the majority of Serment will be light-hearted slice of life events (more commonly known as cute girls doing cute things).

Game features:

- Cute anime girls!
- 4 playable main characters, each with their own unique story and endings.
- More than 10 side characters, each with their own personalities and subplots.
- A dungeon crawler with manually designed puzzles and 100+ unique items to discover!

- A lot of cute anime girls!
- Turn-based RPG battles with simple mechanics but tons of depth.
- A detailed dating sim time management system.
- Cooking, crafting and fishing minigames!
- Light yuri (GxG) romance.
- Steam Achievements and Trading Cards.
- Did we mention that there will be cute anime girls?

A good quality, good all round video. Shows you lots about professionals playing the game. And best of all, its free!. quot;Point Blank Game's debut work is an ambitious title for a small development studio. The game attempts to do many things at once. Some of these things it does well, while others fail to impress. However, gamers who love squad based games and are willing to look passed the game's rough indie edges are bound to find a game that offers some fun tactical moments. Though the frustrating moments sometimes outweigh the triumphant ones, the game clearly shows a development team who loves squad based games and wants to deliver a solid experience."

Check out my full review on Keen Gamer at https://www.keengamer.com/article/16011_shock-tactics-review!. For the devs, you need to bring out a patch to fix some problems with the game;

1. At the end of the mission, once you leave the cabin the driver drops down beyond the map and there is no way to get the points and finish the mission

2. Some achievemnts do not work.
a) For example painting a train for the first time, did not count towards my achievements.
b) Getting a 100% of passenger happiness did not count as an achievement.
c) Catching a train on fire did not count as an achievement.
d) Crashing into a wall did not count as an achievement.

3. 'Leaving a comment for the boss' - achievement does not work as well. To complete simply leave the train to accelerate on full throttle, exit driving position, enter through the door behind the driver seat into the carriage and wait until the train crashes. Choose an option to wright a letter to the boss and state that; 'I wasnt driving' in the comments line. This will be approved (in green letters) but it does not give you the achievement.

More than anything not being able to exit onto a walkway at the end of the mission (droping down beyond the map) does not allow me to progress in the game as I can not earn points and unlock new trains. I played for 4 hours and unfortunatly I feel there is no point playing further.

Please devs contact me and let me know if you are going to release a patch any time soon. For now I have to leave a negative review but if the problems are fixed I will change it to positive. The game is fun and i liked it, but the problems that prevent you from going further really present a big problem!

I suggest you fix it, otherwise it will damage your reputation, because more and more people are going to leave a negative reviews for this game... Kawasaki ZX14R have no turn lights. just empty holes!

Speed is not real. Stock version of zx14R in real life does more than 300km\/h!
FIX THAT BIKE!. Tsioque is a good old adventure game with nice graphics.
No stupid puzzle here, just fluid and not too easy.
Do not hesitate to try this game with this little price!. Tippy tap thats the sound of an iPad screen, well what should be an iPad screen.

Sky to Fly faster than I can say the title of this game is a game that would be right at home on a mobile device (i'm pretty sure its on google play!). Though this version has increased graphical quality over its mobile counterpart. The two main controls are left and right and well thats about it what do you expect.

You're a pilot for a ship and your goal is to reach the end of the level and by golly there are things in the way! Floating islands, weird animals and the most difficult to get past enemy ships. When completing a level you get a star rating out of 3. This means that anyone who is kind of a completionist like myself will be replaying levels for that 3 star rating. Since your ships goes at about the same pace without powerups or other bonuses found on the map its a little weird having "time" as one of the ratings in the ending screen.

You can change your ships crew giving you different bonuses which gives a small amount of customisation.
If you're a mobile enthusiast, temple run addict or anywhere in between you'll probably like this game. 7/10

Sky FTW is pretty neat, steampunk world with some silly characters and for $3.99 you can't really go wrong.. Played for 2 hours solid on first try. Very enjoyable Table Tennis sim "light", that will irk pro players, but for casuals like me the lack of real spin isn't enough to distract from the most realistic table tennis game that I can actually play with my body right now (that I know about). Definitely worth a punt if you’re up for some exercise!

EDIT: Just played eleven Table tennis. That game has much better physics, mutiplayer and animation. Ping Pong VR stil has a charm all of its own though, such as how the crowd roars when you score a point!. Very bland, almost as if it were made for mobile. Only slightly better than Wanderlust: Rebirth. I wouldn't consider it open world either. More like screen by screen. Combat is kinda sluggish for the type it is. Not fond of having to stop to cast a spell or change skills while fighting.

Nice old puzzle. Pros:
- whacky physics
- nice variety in maps
- campaigns are nice
- new units will be introduced, that said there is unit variety to some degree.
- YOU CAN DO SLOWMOTION.
- SLOW MOTION
- S L O W M O T I O N
- the lightning effects and the shades make the game very pretty(its not a pain to look at)
- u can do huge fights without lag (just play on slight slowmotion and boom magic)

cons:
- the game is early access, there will be technical issues(there really aren't many!)
- the amount of different units aren't something to be gawked at, there are currently 5/6 factions
- some units have been removed (all the random ones like hillary and chicken man)
- you cannot make your own custom map
- you cannot play on custom maps of others
- you cannot play as a character in the battles
- not all content is added (i mean come on early access)

all in all. this game is: F U N

i haven't enjoyed whacky physics as much as i do on this game, also playing with some background music is very relaxing
i play this after some stressful plays on r6 or WF

i would HIGHLY reccomend this to you

(and pls add in more units i need moar)
(and pls add custom maps I RLLY NEED)
(and maybe make a castle map)
(also could you make it so u can select the units to attack or defend (stay their ground till hostiles get too close)) a very nice game 10/10 (i mean for early access you cannot ask for better). Gonna have wet dreams with Izzy saying "TOMA" over and over again. 10/10. VR on Vive review)

The good first and there is a lot to like here. The content and game itself is superb. There were moments where I think up to this point no other VR game has immersed me to this level. The scale is well done and the atmosphere feels almost real. The game also has a great cast/voice acting and the music really adds to the presence. I'm not a fan of horror/cheap jump scares but I didn't feel like that's what this game was, it's creepy but it's not scary so I wouldn't let that get in the way. It's well polished, runs quite well, and doesn't feel indie in a good way. I highly recommend it in VR, it's really a no brainer for VR enthusiasts and in my opinion the best September release.

Now on to a few dings and dents. I did have some issues (many of the same ones others have reported) when I got the game. It was odd to launch the game and required going through hoops (besides uplay) to get in the game. The controls could use some work as well, you steer with your head and there is no way to lock out the strafing controls which when you do strafe by accident you may get queezy. It at least has snap turn but no option to steer with motion controller. I didn't feel ill, despite not having a strong stomach typically but there is no teleport option. It's not particularly long either and takes place mostly through out the same few locations.

I would still ignore the controls as you can get used to them quick and do yourself a favor by playing this in VR.. Nice card game for those who loved Astral Tournament/Astral Masters/Spectromancer back in 00's
